

Seven Strokes Ahead, Mrs. Jackson Leads Women Golfers --- Vanitie and Resolute Race To-day

MRS. JACKSON LEADS WITH A GREAT CARD

Oakley Player Seven Strokes in Front in Play for Eastern Title.

FINISHES WITH AN 83

Other Contestants Are Bunched, With Little Chance to Win in One Round.

GREENWICH, Conn., June 1.—At the end of the first half of the women's Eastern golf championship, played to-day at the Greenwich Country Club, the leader was Mrs. H. A. Jackson of Oakley, one of the famous clubs. Mrs. Jackson, who until a few months ago was Miss Kate C. Haden, and who won the women's national championship in 1908 at Chevy Chase, made a remarkable 83, and led her nearest opponents, Mrs. Ronald H. Harlow, the present holder of the title, and Mrs. Clarence H. Vanderbeck of Philadelphia, by seven strokes.

Over forty women golfers from the Boston, Philadelphia and New York districts began play this morning. Under the new conditions two rounds will decide the championship instead of three, as before, so Mrs. Jackson's seven stroke lead will be a hard one for her rivals to overcome with only one more round in which to do it.

The showing of the New York women was disappointing. To begin with Miss Lillian B. Hyde, her new Metropolitan champion, Miss Marion Hollins, who held the title last year, and several others of prominence were not on hand, and the best showing made by a golfer from the local district was that made by Mrs. N. P. Rogers, who tied at 87 for eighth place with two Philadelphia players.

As the course measures 6,200 yards the round of 83 made by Mrs. Jackson was one of the best performances by a woman golfer of recent years. Much of her success was due to her splendid putting. On several greens she needed but one putt to get down, and the remainder of the time she putted steady and true, following it up with a brassie to the green and sinking a ten foot putt for a 3.
